TRIPS

An invitation for students k-12! Visit the home and studio of abstract painters, Jackson Pollock and Lee Krasner, a national landmark in East Hampton. Discover creative ways Pollock and Krasner expressed their feelings with paint. Visit their historic house and explore the studio barn filled with paint splatters where Pollock created his 200 million dollar masterpiece! Discover what creativity is all about as you look and talk about what you see in sculptures, paintings, and prints by many artists displayed in their home. Then get your own expressions out as you sketch on the spectacular grounds overlooking Accabonac Harbor. This trip is an eye opening experience as you discover that creativity and imagination can be inspired within all of us. There is no right or wrong way to look at or make art. Curriculum Connections: local history, museum studies, learning from primary sources, visual literacy, art history, social-emotional learning. For schools that cannot afford buses and are in need, in-school Pollock workshops are available on a limited basis.

EXPRESS YOURSELF! Pollock Drip Painting and Assemblies

What do you do when you are happy, sad, frightened, or mad? Discover creative ways Jackson Pollock, Lee Krasner and other artists expressed their feelings with paint during a fun filled interactive art slide show.

Then, inspired by Pollock, let your emotions out as you drip paint from sticks to create an abstract painting. Or, using the innovative technique of Lee Krasner make a collage-painting by ripping, cutting, and painting shapes to show your feelings. (We work small using popsicle sticks - the workshop can be done in any setting with no mess.)
